GRADUAN® BRAND AWARDS

2017

Puan Elia Talib

Mutual trust is one of the most important elements of a successful relationship between employer and employee. Employees trust that their present and future well-being will be taken care of by their employers and by the same token, employers trust that their employees will meet the deliverables set upon them for the company's success.

Naturally, an attractive salary is the starting point of assuring your employee that their wellbeing is taken care of. But it goes beyond that monthly paycheck - employees want to know that they have ample opportunities within the company to better themselves, are supported by their employers to learn more and do more, and also be rewarded in other forms aside from monetary benefits for a job well done. On top of that be able to maintain a balance between work and everything else that matters in life.

Which is why in today's hiring situation, it takes more than just ringgit and sen to attract a quality talent to join your company. The key is whether the organisation will be able to offer a comprehensive and positive work culture that not only contributes to the development of one's career but ultimately brings joy and purpose to the talent.

This is where our GRADUAN® Brand Awards Survey will come in handy. The annual survey identifies the important elements that make an organisation attractive to today's talent. We approach talent who are currently seeking employment to share with us what makes them choose an organisation over another as their preferred employer. After all, there's no better insight into what can make your organisation attractive to future employees than getting the scoop from the talent itself.

As I mentioned earlier, the relationship between employer and employee is a two-way relationship. The findings from this survey will provide you with information that will be useful as a quideline in your hiring practices as well as branding efforts to reach out to potential hires. Done right, your organisation will be rewarded by passionate, involved and conscientious employees who are willing to go the extra mile to get results.

Good luck and thank you for your continuous support for GRADUAN®.

GRADUAN® BRAND AWARDS 2017

- Introduction
- About GRADUAN® Brand Awards Survey 2017

INTRODUCTION

When it comes to retaining the best of talent, employers have to go beyond an attractive salary package. While it is important to acknowledge one's hard work by paying them accordingly, it takes a lot more to ensure that your talent stays loyal and committed to the company – for starters, a balanced culture that emphasises both work and personal well-being, and upskilling initiatives to empower your employers.

But of course, it all begins with being the organisation with the right image that appeals to all. This is where the GRADUAN® Brand Awards Survey comes in to give employers an advantage. Carried out annually during GRADUAN® ASPIRE, a networking fair by GRADUAN® that connects talent with organisations, the GRADUAN® Brand Awards Survey aims to identify the preferences of Malaysian talent on their ideal employers in respective industries. Each year, the survey is executed independently by GRADUAN® while the data analysis was conducted by KDU for the latest survey.

By far, it is the most comprehensive survey that will be useful for organisations and their Human Resources department when it comes to hiring and attracting talent from all over the country. Within the survey, more than 15,000 respondents shared with us what they look out for when it comes to choosing the organisation to interview with, what makes them attracted to a specific organisation, what it takes to entice them to join an organisation, and the top names in industries like banking and finance, energy, FMGC and more. Essentially, it is a helpful insight into what today's talent prefer and seek in terms of future employers.

A supplementary survey, the Employee Behaviour Survey, was also conducted during the networking fair to identify the factors that influence employer selection as well as the attributes that attract talent to them. Like our main survey, this supplementary information will also help organisations strategise and develop hiring practices and measures that will attract, motivate and retain talent.

GRADUAN® is the most trusted career platform that connects thousands of prospective talent to potential employers. As the country's leading career and employment resource, it has been at the forefront, linking both employers and talent via our annual publications, website, career fairs, networking events and much more. The GRADUAN® Brand Awards Survey is one of GRADUAN®'s many initiatives in helping both talent and organisation understand each other better to create a robust and more productive working environment.

EMPLOYEE BEHAVIOUR STUDY

SURVEY 2:

In the Employee Behaviour Study, we got respondents to share with us how they select their employer of choice.

One of the questions we asked is the deciding factor when selecting a preferred employer. Like the previous year, our survey this year showed that Scope of Work remains the key reason for respondents to select the preferred employer (23.71%) followed by Company Culture (19.72%) and Location of the Organisation (13.28%).

We also asked respondents what is the average employment duration they would stay in an organisation. The results showed that 37% said three to five years while 26.53% said five years and above, and 24.08% picked two to three years. This showed that the average duration would be three years in general before employers think of changing jobs, an insight that is useful for Human Resource departments to think of ways they can encourage employers to stay beyond three years.

Knowing what makes a talent stay in an organisation can help with planning talent retainment. Our survey showed that 46.11% of respondents answered that a Positive Career Path will encourage them to stay in an organisation, followed by Passion for the Job (34.27%) and Monetary Benefits (17.59%). This suggests that aside from monetary incentives, a rewarding career that also promises growth will encourage an employer to stay with a company. Knowing this, employers can develop initiatives based on the three factors to help meet job satisfaction and at the same time improve employee morale, thus boosting productivity and results.

Last year, our respondents picked - in order of preference - Engineering, Banking and Finance, and Energy - as the career sectors they are interested in. The numbers have shifted this year as our respondents picked Banking and Finance (13.83%) as the number one career sector they are interested in followed by Others (13.30%), Engineering (10.99%), Information Technology (9.84%) and Start-ups (8.42%). These results are not surprising with the shift towards a digital economy and technology being an important element in businesses these days.

As for the answer on where our respondents are most likely to job search, they answered that Career Fairs (33.28%) is their popular pick followed by Job Portals (30.93%) and Organisation's Corporate Website (21.54%). With this, organisations can look into spending more money and effort into participating in career fairs to attract talent and have a more successful recruitment drive.

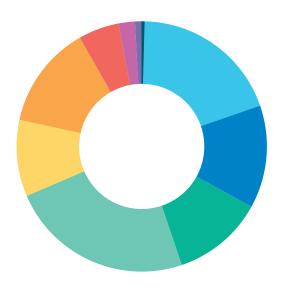

With career fairs as their top picked method for job hunts, our respondents shared that having Friendly Company Representatives (40.68%) would attract them the most at career fairs. Opportunity in the Organisation is second (35.71%) followed by Employers' Branding (13.87%). They named Maybank as the organisation with the most welcoming representatives at GRADUAN® ASPIRE 2017, followed by Bank Rakyat, Malaysia Airlines, Nestle and TNB as the top five. Maybank also had the most impressive booth at the fair, followed by Malaysia Airlines, Bank Rakyat, Nestle and Eco World.

Finally, we asked our respondents how they got to know about GRADUAN® ASPIRE 2017 - 25.30% answered Social Network, 21.95% said Friends and Family, and 17.19% said Career Fairs. This gives insight to employers to concentrate their efforts on social networks when it comes to advertising and branding to reach their potential target audience.

CAREER FAIR 2017, AUSTRALIA

Besides being a platform for talent and employers to network locally, GRADUAN® also organises overseas career fairs in Australia and United Kingdom to reach out to prospective talent currently studying abroad who are interested in potential employers in Malaysia.

In 2005, we introduced the Australia Career Fair that connects talent currently in Australian institutions with Malaysian companies. Like most years, our Australia Career Fair 2017 was held in collaboration with the Malaysian Students' Council of Australia (MASCA) with the support of Education Malaysia. More than 2,000 Malaysian talent attended the fair, which was first held in Melbourne followed by Sydney, for their chance to meet with industry representatives to find out first hand the opportunities back home.

We also conducted the GRADUAN® Brand Awards Survey with visitors of the fair to identify their preferred employers.

Throughout our journey, we have been guided by our key principles to challenge boundaries, embrace innovation and to develop our talent.

Gamuda has completed more than 40 large-scale civil engineering projects in Malaysia, Southeast Asia and the Middle East, which includes the world's first dual purpose tunnel to manage floods and relieve traffic congestion in Kuala Lumpur.

The idea for PERODUA was simple enough - to help families which numbered more than two people get off motorcycles and into well-made, affordable cars. Established in 1993, Perodua began its journey as the second national car company to serve the nation's need for an affordable and industry leading quality compact car.

From the ever popular Perodua Kancil introduced to the Malaysian market in August 1994, Perodua has developed into a strong and dynamic group with a comprehensive range of vehicles renowned for its quality and unsurpassed reliability. Besides manufacturing cars, Perodua also produces engine component parts for both local and international carmakers which helps build the automotive industry in Malaysia.

To date. Perodua has 41 sales branches and 183 sales dealers nationwide to serve its customers efficiently. It also has 55 service branches and 158 service dealers outlets throughout Malaysia for customer's convenience. Save for the sales and service operations, which exist in all states nationwide, Perodua operates from its headquarters in Sungai Choh, Rawang, Selangor Darul Ehsan. Perodua strives to place people first in everything it does.

Perodua's brand statement - Building Cars, People First - stresses the importance of tailoring the product and services to individual lifestyles. It also highlights the role the company plays in empowering the employees and partners through industry-leading training and skill transfers. Our successes are due in great part to the fantastic team at Perodua, who are passionate about the Company and the work they do. After more than 25 years, and over 3.2 million cars sold, Perodua Group of Companies has over 10,000 people who build cars to move Malaysia. And you could be a part of our team, helping build cars that inspire a passion to drive.
